INNOVATIONS FOR A SAFER TOMORROW

Anticipated by industry professionals as the go-to trade exhibition in the region for workplace safety and health innovations, OS+H Asia – the Occupational Safety + Health Exhibition for Asia will deliver a dedicated sourcing and networking platform for international manufacturers and suppliers to showcase in-demand safety-security and health-at-work solutions alongside their local market distributors.

More than just a trade exhibition, the 14th edition of OS+H Asia will also bring together industry thought leaders and OSH professionals for a host of knowledge-sharing and upskilling opportunities through various concurrent events held onsite across the 3-day event.

OSH SOLUTIONS DEMAND DRIVERS

Wearable technology

smartwatches and fitness trackers can monitor workers' vital signs, activity levels, and even exposure to hazardous materials.

Artificial intelligence to analyse data from sensors and other sources to identify potential safety hazards and provide recommendations for preventing accidents.

Virtual and augmented reality can simulate hazardous situations, allowing workers to practice safety procedures in a safe and controlled environment.

3D printing

to create custom safety equipment, such as protective gear and ergonomic tools, tailored to the individual needs of workers.

Drones

to perform inspections of hazardous work areas, such as high scaffolds and towers, reducing the risk of falls and other accidents.

Internet of Things (IoT)

connects sensors, cameras, and other devices to a central monitoring system, allowing for real-time monitoring of work conditions and hazards.
